

Instructions for how to use Gammeldags wool combs MiniMidiRF with comb holder.

These combs are best used with one comb fixed in the comb holder. For fine to medium wool like Swedish Finewool, Jämtland wool, Merino and more.

Warning!

The combs teeth can be harmful to both childrens and adults. Be careful handling the combs.

Start to mount the comb holder. Use one or two C-clamps. A slippery surface may need a non-slip mat to secure the comb-holder.

Loosen the cotters holding top part

Place the comb – the hole in the handle is put at the cotter in the holders rear end, and in the cradle. Mount the top part and put the cotters back in their holes

Load the comb, the wool clip-end to the handle. Don't over-load the combs. Half the hight of the comb is best. Don't press down the wool.

Comb the wool with the other comb. Start from one side. Change side and comb the wool from the other side. Make a swinging motion. Let the comb grab the top first and then go deeper and deeper.

When you have combed the wool, pull out a top. Use a diz to get a proper amount of fibers. Start to draw from one side. It's easier if you move the wool up against the middle of the comb. Draw out the wool to a top, take a new grip and draw again.

Make a birds nest.

Now you are ready to spin from your combed top.

How to take care of your combs

Even if the comb teeth are made of acid proof, stainless steel, you should always clean them after use. Use a soft, dry piece of fabric. Store the combs dry, at room temperature.

We wish you much pleasure with your combs.
